Daring Robbers Get $50,000 From Bank

Chicago Police Arrest Four Suspects in Sensational Holdup.

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Feb. 2.—Half a dozen robbers entered the Kenwood Trust and Savings bank on East Forty-seventh street shortly before 9 o'clock this morning, held up a dozen employees and escaped with $15,000 or $20,000, all the money in one of the tellers' cages.

CHICAGO, Feb. 2.—Four suspects are held by police today in connection with the daring daylight robbery of the Kenwood Trust and Savings bank yesterday. Officials of the bank said the amount obtained by the robbers might reach fifty thousand dollars, although last night it had been estimated that it would not exceed thirty thousand dollars. The bank is fully protected by insurance.

Atlanta Police Search for the Mean Pilferer Who Helped Himself.

(By the Associated Press)
ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 2.—Atlanta's police department admitted today that Calvin Coolidge's overcoat had been stolen while the vice president elect was visiting here last week and that the city's best sleuths could not find it. The public was asked to help.

The coat was taken while the vice-president elect was inspecting the Y. M. C. A. building and because of civic pride the officials wanted to return it without the world knowing the theft had been committed. The police did not say whether their feverish search had been directed toward souvenir hunters or plain thieves.

Local Court Refuses to Push Charges Made by Young Girl

Judge Takes Case From Jury, Sends Man to Jail for Assault.

After listening to the testimony of Lela Holt of Francis, 16-year-old complainant against Lee Raines of Francis, whom she charged with a statutory offense, Judge Bolen in district court Wednesday morning took the case from the hands of the jury, reduced the charge to assault and battery and sentenced the defendant to 30 days in the county jail.

"No habitual prostitute need come to this court with such a story with the expectation of being upheld as long as I am judge of the court," declared Judge Bolen, in making his decision. "Some girls are as wise at 14 as others are at 25, and the man is entitled to some consideration."

The girl charged that Raines had taken advantage of her last summer, only a short time before she reached the age of consent. The girl admitted having been arrested recently with a girl com-

$40,000 DAMAGE IN REFINERY FIRE

The Flames Shoot Skyward When Oil Stills Blow Up.

OKMULGEE, Feb. 2.—Plans were being laid today to repair the three stills and to rebuild the receiving house and condensing power involved in the spectacular fire at the Empire Refinery last night. Officials of the refinery today declined to make any estimate of the loss, except to state it would not exceed forty thousand dollars. The loss includes eight hundred barrels of oil. The efficient work of the city fire department, assisted by employees of the refinery, prevented the flames from crossing to the east side of the creek, where the major portion of the plant is located. One tank on the east side of the creek contained eighty barrels of gasoline and for a time it was feared that this would catch fire and the whole plant would be destroyed.

Several firemen and employees narrowly escaped death when a bolted steel head on one of the stills was blown off by an explosion that shook the city and shot flames hundreds of feet into the air. The loss is partially covered by insurance, officials of the plant announced today.

Life of Another World Found

Reporter Goes to Jail to Learn Inside Story of Prison

Did you ever wonder what the inside of a jail looks like? And have you ever stopped to wonder how it feels to be locked up in jail, cut off from decent society, banished from the beaten paths of man?

A reporter for the Evening News wondered. He wanted to know. So he had himself jailed, with the grating of the key in the lock, he found himself in another world. We present his story of jail life from the inside.

"Bob, I want to be put in jail." Two number eight boot heels struck the floor. Bob Dunce, Oklahoma's most efficient sheriff, was all attention, though much confused.

"You—you want—! What the—! Well I—! How's that? Just say that again real s-l-o-w."

"Well," replied the first spokesman, "as you know I'm a reporter for the Evening News. It's up to me to find out things. Instructive say, 'get the dope. Go to the bottom of everything, no matter what the cost. First, last and all the time get the news.' The wise ones say that 'coming events cast their shadows before,' and I've just learned that one of our citizens has been sentenced to serve one minute in the county jail. I understand the prisoners 'kangaroo' every person placed in the jail, and if that's the case the trial of Bill House will be some swift. I want to be placed in jail so I can get some first hand information on the procedure of the kangaroo court, and do this speedy trial justice in the Evening News."

"Oh, I see," said Bob, and stepping to the door he called a deputy. "Gus," said he, "lock this fellow up." Deputy and reporter made their

TAX FOR 'OLD MAIDS' PROPOSED IN KANSAS

(By the Associated Press)
TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 31.—A state tax on "old maids," as well as on bachelors, was advocated here Saturday by Mrs. Minnie J. Grinstead, dean of the women members of the state legislature.

"Woman's business is being married," said Mrs. Grinstead. "I certainly urge a tax be placed on single girls as well as on men over 21 years of age. I do not originally call them old maids; I prefer to say bachelor girls."

Miss Cline of Larned, only "bachelor girl" member of the state house, refused to discuss the proposed legislation.

Local Oil Man Hurt By Falling Piece of Timber

G. E. Nance, oil promoter, received a painful injury Tuesday afternoon when a heavy piece of timber fell and struck him over the head. The accident happened at the Carter-Nance-Laselle oil well, eight miles northwest of Ada, when a board fell from the derrick and struck him on the head.

He was rushed to the local hospital where an investigation disclosed that he had received a severe scalp wound on top of the head and that the muscles of his neck and shoulders were badly wrenched.

Several stitches were necessary to put the injured man's head in shape. It is thought that he will be able to leave the hospital within a few days.

Mrs. R. N. Nelson of Allen, who has been visiting friends and shopping in the city for the past few days, left this morning for Holdenville where she will visit her sister, Mrs. Frank Billings, before returning to her home in Allen.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—President-elect Harding favors enactment of legislation, to provide for voluntary military training of one hundred fifty thousand men annually, Chairman Kahn of the house military committee announced today on the floor of the house in launching his fight to prevent reduction of the regular army below one hundred and seventy five thousand men.

Chairman Kahn declared that the president-elect had told him in Marion, Ohio, recently that he favored an army of one hundred seventy five thousand men, but that he hoped that "some day" it could be cut to one hundred and fifty thousand men.

ALLIES TO HOLD GERMANY TO TERMS

Treaty of Versailles Must Be Fulfilled, Supreme Council Decides.

(By the Associated Press)
PARIS, Feb. 2.—Official information toward the German attitude toward the reparations terms made by the supreme allied council has not come into possession of the French government up to this afternoon. It was said in official circles, however, that if official advice received here were accurate and that Foreign Minister Simons had in reality announced a refusal to accept the terms as a basis for negotiations, this would not change the attitude of the allies, who consider the decision reached at Paris merely as details in the execution of the treaty of Versailles.

The allies, it was stated, are determined not to reopen the question so laboriously settled by them. Germany may refuse to negotiate the treaty, but she will not be allowed to say on what basis she will or will not negotiate, since the entire discussion concerns an undertaking to which Germany has put her signature. If she wants to present rejections regarding the mode of execution, they will be examined, if she refuses execution, the allies will notify Berlin of the four penalties fixed at Paris.

Buried Body of Victim in Refuse Behind Old Stable.

(By the Associated Press)
OAK CREEK, Colo., Feb. 2.—Fifteen year old Annie Mudra, undersized and unkempt, was a stolid witness of the coroner's inquest, which charged her here Saturday with the murder of her mother Mrs. Frank Mudra, in a little ranch home in Twenty Mile Park, 15 miles over the mountain roads from here.

She was brought back after father had discovered that his wife had been dead three weeks, the victim of his Czech-Slovak daughter whose infatuation for a neighbor ranch hand the mother had opposed because the latter was a German-Slovak.

Frank Mudra, the father, had been working here in a mine, leaving his wife and the children at the ranch. Thursday night the girl drove into town and told Mudra his wife wanted him. Questioning by Mudra brought out that Mrs. Mudra was dead, her body buried in a refuse pile behind the stable. Confronted with the body with two bullet wounds in the back, Annie, according to the father, confessed, and the coroner and sheriff's officers from Steamboat Springs, took charge of the case.

Brer Groundhog Sees Shadow, Scampers Back

Six More Weeks of Winter Says This Well Known Prognosticator.

Brer Groundhog opened his eyes this morning, after a long winter's sleep, looked about his small bed chamber, stretched himself and decided to go out into the open and see what had happened during the long winter months.

When he reached the door of his small groundhouse he was surprised to see a world bathed in warm, inviting spring sunshine. He blinked his eyes at the sunlight after his long stay in the dark. Ah, what a world he looked upon, everything pleasing to the eye, and he was just preparing to take a much desired sunbath when he happened to look around.

What he saw sent cold shivers through his thin body and he hurried back to his home as fast as his feet would carry him. He had seen his shadow, and to a groundhog that is a token of bad luck. Yes, many of his brothers and sisters have perished in the cold because of not heeding this omen by remaining in their homes.

It is and has been considered for years and years that the second day of February was "groundhog day" and that if the sun shone on that day, it was a sign of coming bad weather. An early spring is promised if the day is cold and cloudy. Whether or not the hog has anything to do with the weather is not known, but Brer Groundhog is acknowledged as a reliable prognosticator.

The day has been one of the most beautiful yet this year, and judging from past experiences, people will be acting wisely to prepare for six weeks more of bad weather. Take it from Brer Groundhog.

A MORNING THOUGHT: Cause me to hear thy loving kindness in the morning; for in thee do I trust; cause me to know the way wherein I should walk; for I lift up my soul unto thee.—Psalms 143:8.

TWOFOLD VIEW OF IMMIGRATION.

The man who can easily settle all our national ills is a familiar person. Of this type is the agitator, professional and amateur, the soap box orator on street corners, the paid propagandist. He has the one sure remedy for the problem. Others, of course, are fools or worse.

In discussing the question of immigration, we frequently meet this sort of mental attitude—that is, persons who seem incapable of taking more than one point of view and therefore having no adequate understanding of the matter. There are the radicals. Such persons insist that America is for Americans and that wholesale exclusion should be our national policy. At such a time as the present when immigration is in almost overwhelming numbers and when the coming flood of aliens looks threatening for industrial conditions it is rather easy to become carried away with the idea of absolute prohibition of the landing of foreigners.

The wiser ones of our nation see the danger at times of too free immigration and are inclined to favor some restrictive rules of a more or less temporary character. They are not radical. They are not propagandists. Being able to view the matter from more than one position, they see the evils and dangers in a fixed and absolute policy of immigration prohibition. They realize that America has been made largely the stalwart nation that it is through our great melting pot.

Then comes the finer and idealistic point of view which holds to the brotherhood of man and the Christian theory of fellowship. Out of this has come the great missionary enterprises of the church. These would suffer, if not be annihilated, by the tight-shutting of our gates to the stranger from across the seas. As religionists we seem called upon to leave some difficulties to the sure working of Providence.

RIGHT TO CARRY ARMS.

The editor of a contemporary, in discussing the proposal to take firearms away from the people in order to disarm bandits and robbers, expresses a fear that such action might interfere with the constitutional right of the people to "keep and bear arms."

The right to which reference is made is a quotation from the second amendment to the constitution of the United States, which reads: "A well-regulated militia being necessary to the security of a free state, the right of the people to bear arms shall not be infringed." It appears extremely doubtful if this amendment to the constitution was intended to preserve the right of any individual to maintain an arsenal in his home or to carry abroad. It surely did not mean that any person should be encouraged to keep weapons that would aid him in the commission of crime. The fact that the term, "a well-regulated militia," is used in the amendment would indicate that the right to "keep and bear arms" is not an individual right, but one of a collective character, given through regular organization for the protection of the state, as is plainly indicated by the wording of the amendment.

Bandits will get pistols and other weapons for their thievish and murderous uses, so the only plan that seems to be feasible is to round up the crooks and disarm them. There is nothing to fear from law-abiding citizens, even if they should provide themselves with weapons in self-defense. The crook who is permitted to run at large will find weapons to carry on his criminal work, regardless of any laws that may be passed.

FROGS AND TARIFF.

To one not versed in tariff law, or familiar with the devious and tortuous channels of reasoning followed only by customs legal luminaries, some of the decisions that have been rendered would appear at first blush to be rather odd. Frogs have become chickens for tariff purposes, venison has been held to be beef, and live snails have soberly been decided to be non-enumerated unmanufactured articles.

Reason begins to totter on its throne, and completely tumbles off when one learns that firebrick weighing under five pounds is a firebrick weighing over five pounds. Reason, however, can pick up its scepter and climb back to its easy chair with a sigh of relief after reading a wonderful paragraph in the law known as the similitude clause. If an article is not provided for, either by name or material, and has one of four characteristics of an article that is provided for, it takes the same rate of duty. If the homeless article resembles any other article either in material, quality, texture or in use to which it may be applied, it becomes that article for tariff purposes. Frog meat is similar to the white meat of chicken in three counts, venison scores on one for the reason that both venison and beef are eaten, and firebricks weighing under five pounds are used in exactly the same manner as those weighing over five pounds.

The man who spends much time on the streets dodging automobiles does not need gymnasium work.

The man who decides that cigars are too expensive assures his friends he gets the most satisfaction out of a pipe.

HERE IS HUSBAND OF PEGGY MARSH

Here is the man who is the talk of two continents because he married Peggy Marsh, the pretty English actress who is mother of Henry Anthony Marsh, her child by Henry Field H. Albert L. Johnson of New York and Cleveland was an instructor in aviation during the war and is now in the insurance business. He says reports of his vast wealth are fantastic.

Pawhuska Capital: It always does a person good to discover there are many things that are not necessary to his happiness.

Shawnee News: To use the language of an Ohio newspaper, the oil and gas inspectors created by the legislature two years ago are nothing less than unemployment.

Olton Gusher: When Olton becomes a city of the first class there is strong possibility that a number of its main streets will be paved in the proper manner.

Slick Times: Slick is growing so fast that men who have been here three months often lose themselves when they attempt to reach their offices or business houses in the morning.

Bartlesville Enterprise: The worst jolt a little big man in a small town gets generally happens when he moves to a big town and tries to run things just as he did back in the old home community.

Tulsa Tribune: If a "favorable balance of trade" is as favorable as people used to think, America is certainly well off. There's something like $18,000,000,000 in our favor right now. If we could only eat and wear it and live in it!

Joplin Globe: They are getting mighty uppity over in Kansas. They are kicking because the state seal carries the picture of a man plowing. They don't object to the plowing, but the man is afoot. Probably they'll revise the seal and advertise some tractor.

Bartlesville Enterprise: The worst phase of the whole miserable business of illicit liquor sales since the country went dry has been the using of wood alcohol instead of grain alcohol. Every intelligent person knows by this time that wood alcohol is almost sure to cause partial or total blindness, and often results in death.

Cushing News: Mother nature made all the laws necessary for the control of birth and death, and we have no time for a man able to earn a living by manual labor who shirks his duty to society, as does a man who takes up some fool thing like birth control as a means of earning a meal ticket.

Wichita Eagle: Senator Harding already has begun to surround himself with the exclusive atmosphere. During the campaign the candidate was frankness itself with the newspaper men. But now he forbids the correspondents to write about this or that move of his, under pain of his extreme displeasure. Mr. Harding is making a bad start in this matter. He is overboard by his dignity very early.

FARM BUREAU IS BIG ORGANIZATION

Federation Only 9 Months Old Has a Million Members.

Permanently organized in thirty-three states and temporary organizations in twelve more, with a paid membership of more than a million and with the organization itself only nine months old, is the history and life of the American Farm Bureau Federation, according to its special representative for the Texas, New Mexico and Arizona territory, Charles G. Stonebraker, "hog farmer" from Independence, Iowa, who is now in Texas in the interest of the bureau.

Last March there were a few county farm bureaus in Iowa, as well as in several other states. Those organizations were strictly local in administration and policy as well as in scope. A number of the counties of Iowa conceived and put into effect the idea of state-wide and then nation-wide organization of the bureaus. In March representatives met at Chicago, formed the national organization and elected permanent officers with J. R. Howard, a "dirt" farmer from Marshall county, Iowa, as the national president.

A plan of work was outlined, making the primary policies of the organization educative, legislative and co-operative marketing. It is educative in that it attempts to keep the farmer informed, legislative, in that it attempts to keep the proper legislative proposals before the proper bodies of the state and nation, and co-operative marketing in that the big idea is to aid the farmer to sell his product on a cost-production basis.

Legislative Achievements. Legislative work done by the Farm Bureau Federation for the benefit of the farmer is shown in extracts from a speech before the second annual convention of the bureau at Indianapolis on Dec. 6, 1920, made by J. R. Howard, the president of the federation. According to Mr. Howard, representation was had on the tax revising committee appointed by the National Industrial Conference board, a powerful organization representing big business interests of the east, insuring the farmer's viewpoint in their deliberations; a committee had a conference with the Treasury Department at Washington, and a representative was at the advance rate hearing before the Interstate Commerce commission.

A very notable achievement of the American Farm Bureau Federation, which saved the public (and that means the farmers) more than one hundred million dollars, according to Mr. Howard, was the rate case reductions. Clifford Thorne of Chicago, appointed as the representative of the federation in transportation matters, who appeared before the Interstate Commerce Commission at Washington, was the only one who opposed the 6 per cent guaranteed earnings of the railroads of the nation on a $20,000,000,000 valuation, when the actual value of stocks and bonds of the transportation lines was twelve or thirteen billion dollars. The valuation was reduced owing to the objections raised by Mr. Thorne, according to Mr. Howard.

Real Help to Farmer. "Here is an organization that, already has done more for the farmer than any other, and already has more active members than any other farmers' organization," ever had said Mr. Stonebraker Friday while in Dallas. "This is the only farm organization that is doing anything in a national way to help all classes of farmers. On Friday, Dec. 24, Mr. Howard, in conference with a senate committee, had nothing to say about an embargo tariff on farm products, and he spoke directly against any relief measure, but what he did suggest as the remedy favored by the Farm Bureau Federation was machinery for the opening of foreign markets for the American crop surplus."

The Decatur (Ill.) Herald in its issue of Dec. 27, speaks of Mr. Howard's suggestion to the senate committee as follows:

"It supposes a method that involves no taint of classism or partiality to a single class, instead of seeking to cut America off from the rest of the world and create false valuation by facilitating the boarding of grain while the rest of the world starves this method will enable the starving to buy the food, while raising prices to a level truly reflecting the balance between world supply and world demand."

Counties in Texas are being organized every day. Mr. Stonebraker spoke at McKinney yesterday and will start the campaign in Wharton county Monday, Jan. 3. Jackson county will be reached by him on Jan. 10.

E. C. Hearn, stationary engineer, 331 West Fifteenth St., Ada, says: "Some time ago I used Doan's Kidney Pills with such fine results I shall never hesitate in choosing a kidney remedy hereafter. My back had been bothering me with a steady, grinding ache just over my hips and when I tried to lift anything or stoop over, I could hardly straighten. Mornings, I felt lame and stiff and as though I had had no rest. I had to get up often at night to pass the kidney secretions, too. I bought Doan's Kidney Pills from Gwin, Mays & Co.'s drug store and they surely gave me quick relief. In a short time Doan's entirely removed the trouble and it has been two years since I have had need of a kidney remedy." 60c. at all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

The Dream.
In visions of the dark night
I have dreamed of joy departed.
But a waking dream of life and light
Hath left me broken-hearted.

Ah! what is not a dream by day
To him whose eyes are cast
On things around him with a ray
Turned back upon the past?

That holy dream—that holy dream,
While all the world were chiding,
Hath cheered me as a lovely beam
A lonely spirit guiding.

What though that light, thrú storm and night,
So trembled from afar,
What could there be more purely bright
In Truth's day-star.

B. M. S. Entertained.
On Monday, January 31, the ladies of the fourth district of the B. M. S. society entertained the ladies of the Baptist church with a combined New Year and twisted social.

The house was called to order by Mrs. L. J. Crowder. After making the announcements she introduced the following speakers: Mrs. W. T. Melton as Father Time, who gave a short retrospective view of the past year's work; Mrs. M. M. Webster, as Lady New Year, who gave a prophetic vision of the new year's work; Mrs. J. A. Cowling, as Lady Spring; Mrs. R. E. L. Ford as Lady Summer; Mrs. R. A. Herndon, as Lady Autumn; Mrs. J. T. Emory, as Lady Winter; who in turn endeavored to prove to the audience that their seasons were the best time of the year to be Christian workers. Mrs. J. E. Hickman, who gave a short talk on "A Twisted Conscience," after which they were favored with two beautiful selections by Mrs. T. H. Granger. The remainder of the afternoon was spent in playing games of a twisted nature. Refreshments consisted of home-made cake, jello, whipped cream and tea.

Those present were: Mesdames Morris, Laird, Ford, Huber, Torbett, Gregg, Hodges, Little, Granger, Westbrook, Shirley, Ellison, Brians, Pitt, Cowling, McKeown, Hickman, Herndon, Crowder, Riddling, Heathman, McKeel, McKellar, McClure, Harris, Hollman, Ross, Mount, Smith, Webster, McFarland, McKinney, Boud, Cowling, Melton and Emory.

Miss Braly Tutors.
The C. C. P.'s were very delightfully and appropriately entertained last evening by Miss Genevieve Braly at her home at 214 West Fourteenth street. The rooms were artistically decorated in the club colors and a soft melow light from candles added to the beauty and spirit of the scene.

After a delicious three-course dinner all turned to the work in hand which consisted of initiating a new member and making plans for the next week's meeting. Miss Nora L. Abney was the candidate taken in last night and she managed to take the solemn oath of allegiance to the club after going through the awful experiences and trials of initiation. Miss Vivian Reed will be hostess to the club next week at her home on South Johnson avenue.

Those present at this meeting were Misses Eunice Louise McNew, Vivian Reed, Rosa J. Anderson, Donna Bell Lee, Sara Jo Tunnell, Nora L. Abney and Genevieve Braly.

AMERICAN LEGION TO PLANT TREES IN HONOR OF DEAD

(By the Associated Press.)

TULSA, Jan. 31.—Seven hundred white elm trees arrived here last week for the American Legion.

This is the first installment of about 2,450 which are to be planted on Memorial Drive along the banks of the Arkansas river in memory of Oklahoma's sons and daughters who sacrificed their lives in the world war.

During a campaign put on here the latter part of last summer more than $2,500 was raised for this purpose from individual contributions which came in from every part of Oklahoma as well as from the citizens of Tulsa. The whole state is interested in this project because a tree is to be planted and named for each one of the fallen heroes from Oklahoma.

The fund will be opened again sometime this year to raise the additional amount necessary to purchase the balance of the trees. Those purchased are of the finest variety. They are three or four inches in diameter and about 15 feet in height.

The women's clubs of the city are planning to stage a pageant the first week in March to raise funds to beautify the parking spaces along Memorial Drive where the trees will be planted.

State Inspectors Declare City to Be Cleanest in State

Ada, the cleanest town in the state.

This was the verdict of Messrs. Cheatham and Burke, two state health inspectors who were in the city Jan. 31 and Feb. 1, inspecting the city. They had visited many of the largest cities in Oklahoma and had conducted thorough inspections at each place. After spending two days here doing the same work they found Ada to be the cleanest place which they had as yet visited.

All the hotels, restaurants, boarding houses, rooming houses, soda fountains, court house, jails, city hall and other public places were inspected and found to be in good condition. There was not a place of business in the city condemned and their report to the State Board of Health was of the best.

Dr. J. A. Deen, county health officer, suggested that the men visit the city for the purpose of inspecting it and is very well pleased with the results. This places Ada in an excellent position to win the better cities contest prize and also is a good inducement to people looking for a location.

TULSA OIL MEN ARE HOSTS TO MEXICAN STATE GOVERNOR

(By the Associated Press.)

TULSA, Jan. 31.—Tulsa oil men were this week hosts to General Lopez de Lara, governor of the state of Tamaulipas, Mexico, and a party of three other Mexican officials and two of their wives when they paid the city a visit at the invitation of the chamber of commerce.

The Mexican governor and his party came to Tulsa after attending the inaugural ceremonies of the governor of Texas.

General de Lara is the governor of the state in which the rich Tampico oil fields are located. Tulsa oil men were especially glad of the opportunity of meeting him as many of them have holdings in this field which they expect to develop in the near future.

The occasion was especially auspicious for the oil men, and, after furnishing an elaborate entertainment for their guests, they were rewarded by the statement from General de Lara that he favors them coming to Mexico and that the friendliest possible relations will be fostered by him.

"When I take office as governor of Tampico I shall esteem it a privilege, both officially and personally to co-operate with American oil men in continuing the development of our oil fields," he said. "Mexico's oil industry is now only in its infancy, although the production is very large, and under the efficient government of Obregon great strides will be taken in the next few years, I am sure. The relations between Mexican and American citizens are very friendly and steps are now being taken to cement the friendship between the two nations."

THE SURPRISE PARTY

"OLD Singlefoot is going to celebrate his golden wedding tomorrow," said the assessor; "we are planning to give him a surprise party, and would like you to go along."

"You couldn't drag me there with a team of government mules," replied the village patriarch. "About the meanest trick you can play a man is to spring a surprise party on him. Of course the majority of surprise parties are fakes. The victim has been informed in advance that he is going to be ambushed upon a certain date, and he makes his preparations accordingly. Then when the visitors arrive at his abode he pretends to be immensely astonished, and says he never dreamed of such a visitation; but the fact that he is wearing his Sunday shirt, and has his hair parted in the middle, gives the lie to all his protestations."

"There is no serious objection to a surprise party when the victim is warned in advance, although, as I have shown, it encourages skulduggery and hypocrisy, for no man can be thoroughly honest who pretends amazement over a visit he has been planning for."

"But the genuine surprise party is an outrage, and people who resort to it should be severely punished. There's nothing more humiliating to a self-respecting man than to have a whole neighborhood blow into his dwelling when he isn't looking for it."

"When I am at home I sacrifice everything to personal comfort. I take off my shoes and collar and necktie, and roll up my shirt sleeves and slip my suspenders down over my arms. I don't care how I look if I am feeling at ease. If I am expecting visitors, I go to my boudoir and fix myself up so I look like a bridegroom. My wife has theories, similar to mine, and doesn't believe in being arrayed in purple and blue linen all the time. But she wouldn't be seen looking slovenly for anything."

"Some months ago my wife casually remarked to a neighbor that my birthday would occur on the following Wednesday, and that neighbor, being a confirmed busybody, got busy and organized a surprise party. I never received the faintest hint of the scheduled catastrophe, and on the evening of my birthday I was lying on the floor of the sitting room, with about a hundred newspapers around me. My wife was wearing an old wrapper, and was peeping corn on the kitchen stove. There was nobody else in the house, and we had no idea visitors would come, for it was a bad night."

"About eight o'clock, just when I was thinking of going to bed, there was a knock at the front door. My wife thought it was some boy on an errand so she went to the door with a stovehook in one hand, and the corn popper in the other, and she gave a shriek of anguish when she saw the mass meeting on the front porch. The minute the door was open all those delegates pushed themselves in, smiling and giggling as though they were doing something mighty funny."

"Our house hadn't been in such disorder in twenty years. It looked as though a couple of amateur teams had been playing basketball in it. My wife and I began apologizing and explaining, as people will do under such conditions, although they know that nobody will believe what they say; the guests assured us that it was all right, but I could see them squinting around and making mental notes for future reference, and inside of a week the story was all over town that our house was a fright, and no respectable cow could live in it."

"That was the most miserable evening I ever spent, my friends, and I have never forgiven the people who took part in that uprising. And you may be sure I'll never treat another man as I was treated."

ILLINOIS SEWERS GET MILLION DOLLARS' WORTH OF BOOZE

U. S. agents dumping a few of the 32,000 gallons of liquor into the sewers in Waukegan, Ill.

The dumping of a few gallons of hard liquor has been common in the vicinity of Chicago for the past few months, but government agents are believed to have set a world's record at Waukegan, Ill. They dumped 32,000 gallons of alcoholic beverages into the sewers to find its way into Lake Michigan. At the present high price of liquor that means a million dollars lost or rather thrown away. Gloom among the speculators here is as strong as the odor of the booze.

LIFE OF ANOTHER WORLD IS FOUND

row Wilson, president of the United States."

"You are charged with breaking into jail without the permission of the prisoners; the fine will be $2 if you plead guilty. Will you pay your fine?"

"Oh, yes, the kangaroo court. Oh, yes, I see. Why, I'm not guilty." "You're in here ain't you? Nobody sent for you, did they? The court finds you guilty, and assesses your fine at $2, so pay up and save us the trouble of taking it away from you with interest added."

"But I demand a trial," the news man insisted, hoping to get the very news he came after. "Listen," said the judge, "we are all new in here. We did have a code, but a hard boiled drunk tore it up the other day. We don't know just how to conduct the trial without the code. This two dollar fine, you understand, is divided up among the prisoners. It goes to buy cigars, candy, and other little luxuries. All of the good guys pay it without asking for a trial, and you will get yours when the next prisoner arrives. If we had a code we'd honor you with a trial, but we have none and that ends it, pay up!"

Came a negro voice from over-head, "I can write the code used in the Oklahoma City jail." He had just done eleven months at Oklahoma City, and knew more about the kangaroo code than he did about the Ten Commandments.

Just at this juncture Uncle Jim returned to the outer corridor of the jail. He had been up talking to Bob Duncan, you could see it written all over his face.

"Uncle Jim, go up and have Moss write down enough of the Oklahoma City code to try this dude with," said the judge, and Uncle Jim climbed the steps to the negro quarters.

While he was away on this mission the men busied themselves at pitching pennies at a crack in the floor, and the two girls began poking fun at the "sissy" reporter through the bars of their cell. This continued for about fifteen minutes while the colored judge of the high court was drafting the writ of certiorari.

At last Uncle Jim re-appeared with the legal document, handing it through the bars to the judge. A crafty look was on the face of Uncle Jim, and while the reporter was trying to surmise what he was up against the jailer pulled a lever, and the door of the women's cell came slowly open.

With one accord the two damsels bounded forth and grappled with the reporter. After a short scuffle they threw him to the floor, emptied his pockets of every cent of money they contained, and ran back to their cell, as Uncle Jim puffed a lever which closed the door behind them.

In the midst of a great outburst of laughter, the judge yelled, "I guess a trial won't be necessary now that you are broke. Here is the code if you want it. It came pretty high, didn't it?"

"Four dollars and ten cents," said the reporter invoicing, "but it's worth the money."

"Prisoners inside!" came a sharp command from Uncle Jim. Every one jumped for a cell except the reporter. The cell doors closed. The cage door opened and the scribe started to leave the jail.

"What the—!" commenced the judge.

"See you tomorrow in the Evening News," hunc back the reporter as he scrambled forth to learn the latest news on the "outside."

The following is an exact copy of the code which the colored sojourner had scrawled on the back of a letter from his wife:

Rule No. 1:

"Each and every prisoner enter this jail subject to one fine not no less than $two no more than three if the prisoner has not the money to pay fine court will make other arrangement if he has the money and fail to pay he will be subject to additional fine which ever judge may see fit. Any man caught in fault about his money on prisoner or in office he is subject to the limit."

McSwain, Vaudeville and pictures. Probably no show that has played Ada recently has had the favorable compliments that has been heard on the Raynor Lehr company, which is playing at the McSwain this week. Their singing quartet is good comedy, clean and wholesome, and the chorus, well-dressed and pretty. They are presenting for today "Lena Rivers" with lots of vaudeville specialties. The picture program:

Alice Lake will appear before local motion picture audiences in a photodrama of the artist quarter of Paris, "Body and Soul," from the play by William Hurlbut, today at the McSwain theatre. Miss Lake will be seen first as an American girl a student in the French capital; and again as the same girl as she was after an unusual incident which changes her entire personality.

A. E. Freudergerman has designed special interiors and street scenes, all of which have been carried out on rather a magnificent scale. Charles Swickard directed the picture, from the adaptation of Mr. Hurlbut's play by Hayden Talbot and Marc Robbins. Photography was by Arthur Reeves.

American. Acclaimed by critics who have seen it in preview, as one of the most effective products of the screen year, "Love," J. Parker Read Jr.'s second Louis Glaum vehicle for Associated Producers, comes to the American theatre Thursday and Friday.

Louise Glaum has won a host of admirers in Ada through her colorful performances in "Sex," "The Lone Wolf's Daughter," and "The Leopard Woman," yet it is said that in "Love" she reaches the pinnacle of her art as an actress. "Love," the scenario of which is by Louise Joseph Vance, is a heart interest, human drama of tremendous scope and characteristically lavish production for which J. Parker Read, Jr. is noted.

WEAK; RUN-DOWN

Carolina Lady Got So She Could Just Drag—'Cardui Built Me Up,' She Declares.

Kernersville, N. C.—In an interesting statement regarding Cardui, the Woman's Tonic, Mrs. Wesley Mabe, of near here, recently said: "I have known Cardui for years, but never knew its worth until a year or so ago. I was in a weakened, run-down condition. I became draggy—didn't eat or sleep to do any good; couldn't do anything without a great effort. I tried different remedies and medicines, yet I continued to drag.

"I decided to give Cardui a trial, and found it was just what I really needed. It made me feel much stronger soon after I began to use it. I began to eat more, and the nervous, weak feeling began to leave. Soon I was sleeping good.

"Cardui built me up as no other tonic ever did.

"I used Cardui with one daughter who was puny, felt bad and tired out all the time. It brought her right out and soon she was as well as a girl could be. We think there is nothing like Cardui."

Do not allow yourself to become weak and run-down from womanly troubles. Take Cardui. You may find it just what you really need. For more than 40 years it has been used by thousands and thousands, and found just as Mrs. Mabe describes.

CHEERS RING FOR PRESIDENT AS HE ENTERS THEATER

Gray and Broken, Wilson Goes To First Show Since Illness.

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—So far as had been learned at the White House today, President Wilson was suffering no ill effects from attendance at the theater last night. His first since the illness which interrupted his League of Nations speaking tour in September, 1919. With Mrs. Wilson, and his brother-in-law John Randolph Bolling the president witnessed a performance of John Drinkwater's "Abraham Lincoln," surprising a large audience when he appeared in a lower box last night.
A round of applause and cheers greeted the president when recognized by the audience, which arose in unity and stood until he was seated. The flood of light on the president's box gave the assembled hundreds the first clear view of the man whose whitened hair and more deeply lined countenance bore evidence of the long illness from which he is said to be making rapid recovery.

Health of Women.
How many perfectly well women do you know? Isn't it true that in order to keep up with the march of progress the endurance of woman is often strained to its utmost and the tax upon her physical system is in many cases greater than she can stand. Headaches develop, and nervous irritability, backache, dragging down sensations, and other painful ailments peculiar to women. The reliable remedy when a woman gets into such a condition is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as for nearly half a century it has proved the natural restorative for these troubles.

LOCAL COURT REFUSES TO PUSH CHARGE

was continued by agreement, as was the case against Jim Godby charged with assault with intent to kill; the case against Nelson Hawkins who is charged with false pretenses; the case against Willie Webb, charged with a statutory offense, and the case against Nelson Hawkins who is charged with false pretenses.
The cases against Jim Harrison and Dave Walker and Elmer McCollum were dismissed.
The state has reported ready for trial on the following cases, which, if tried, will likely be the last of the present term: State versus Lena Isaah, charged with assault with intent to kill; against C. E. Pyle defendant in two cases for alleged grand larceny, and against D. Neel charged with assault with intent to kill.
Court adjourned at 11:30 a. m. to give the lawyers time to get their cases in shape, and the first one ready for trial will be tried first. If the cases are not ready for trial promptly Judge Bolen announced that he will not hold the jurors waiting longer than today, and unless one of the cases are ready for trial this afternoon it is probable that the court will adjourn for the term.
The entire day Tuesday was taken up with the trial of the case in which L. W. Patterson and Lee Raines of Francis were defendants and were declared not guilty. A feature in this case was the eloquent plea of Attorney Ulysses Grant Winn for the defense. Judge Winn has been out of active practice for over four years, but for over an hour he demonstrated to the jury that his hat was still in the oratorical ring.

HAVE COLOR IN CHEEKS Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets

To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days, you must keep your body free from poisonous wastes. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets (a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil) act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effect. Take one nightly and note results. They start the bile and overcome constipation. That's why millions of boxes are sold annually.

The question of establishing linotype schools will be considered, as also a report from the association's percentage committee, that requires each member of the Inland Press Association to make a detailed financial statement in percentages of his business for 1920.

MAN DIES AFTER YEARS OF SUFFERING FROM BURNS

(By the Associated Press)
GENEVA, Jan. 31.—Twenty years suffering from the burns of radium and X-rays were ended recently for Dr. Behrens, a prominent Swiss surgeon of Bienne, when death brought relief. Physicians several years ago pronounced his case hopeless and death certain but Dr. Behrens, whose hand had been spared, continued his experiments until his last days.
